

If it's wrong to hit an adult,
how can it be right to hit a child?

A yes vote in the upcoming referendum* on child discipline supports children, parents and the law that is working well to keep children safe.

Aotearoa New Zealand can be a place where children are secure, confident, understand limits and boundaries and behave well – without physical punishment.

www.yesvote.org.nz

*Registered voters will receive a postal ballot at the end of July.

